“ It has been an honor and a privilege to know Pat. She was a fine example of a woman blessed with boundless grace and dignity. I learned a lot watching Pat live life on life's terms with grace and faith. Your footsteps here on earth will always stay imprinted on my heart and the hearts of the many others who loved you, Pat. Rest in Divine Peace, my friend.
With much love and gratitude,
Cathy Brennan

“ Pat was a wonderful woman and dear friend. She was a very spiritual person, a good listener who was sincere and kind. She always spoke of her family who she loved so very much. Pat, Rest In Peace with your loving God. I will always love and miss you. Condolences to Kathleen, Phil, Brian, Laura and Pat's precious grandchildren.

“ When I think about what I love about my family and my favorite memories from growing up, Aunt Pat's hugs are one of the first things I think of. Holidays weren't the same if she wasn't there. I'll never stop hearing the sound of her laugh drift across the room at Christmas or feeling her kiss me on the cheek before she left the party. My heart is broken, but she and Uncle Bobby are together now, looking down on the beautiful family they created! My heart goes out to Kathleen and Brian and your whole family. We'll all miss Aunt Pat terribly. I'm grateful to have known and loved her. <3

“ My condolences are sent in prayers for you, Kathleen, Phil, Brian, Laura, Alyssa, Vincent, and the wee ones, Jason, Christian, and little Kate. There were only 2 things of importance on Pat's list. GOD AND FAMILY....I met Pat In 2012. I had always wanted a big sister. God put Pat in my path - and I on hers. Me, bull-headed and full of will - her, calm and rational, my rock. The first thing I learnt about Pat was what she held with her right and left arms - LOVE, SO MUCH LOVE FOR HER CHILDREN, and GRANDCHILDREN.

Pat never, or I should say, rarely complained. She was the arch over her beloved family. I met her in 2012. I was intimidated by her manner. She is very direct - very honest. We are different in some of our beliefs too, but this never separated us as it has for so many....I believe we loved each other more, for the acceptance we had for each other. Days before she went into the hospital, on the phone as usual, we laughed so hard, as we recalled early days of us. About 10 days or so before she passed, I wrote a poem about us, took a pic and sent it to her. At this point she was not able to text a conversation, but she responded with love emoji's. It was a gift to know that she had felt my love one more time.

You are still here with me. I hear words, in your voice, in response to thoughts and feelings I have felt since your passing.

In loving memory of you my dearest friend, my dear dear sister, I will live the fullest life, I will make batches of Bolognese sauce for Kathleen, and Brian, I will keep loving all that is not so good, and embrace all that is good, and learn more and more each day, to trust in God at each moment. Only He knows the big picture, as you always reminded me. Its not goodbye at all, its just another phase of our relationship - you are here with me now, my angel. Love you Babes. Nikki “ Pat Campbell became part of our Powell family over 50 years ago when I was just a young boy. I came to know her as a kind and loving sister-in-law who was always honest and committed to our large, sometimes unruly family. She set an example of unconditional love that was recognized by everyone. Her memory will be cherished and she will be missed.

“ I was so used to seeing Pat even on zoom meetings I will truly miss her. She was so devoted to her family and her friends. I took it for granted that she would always be there, we will all miss her.
