

Carl A. Santelmo

July 17, 1955 - March 28, 2015

STATEN ISLAND, N.Y. -- Carl A. Santelmo, 59, of Charleston, an insurance division director and former MetLife senior account executive who will be remembered as a devoted father, died Saturday in Staten Island University Hospital, Prince's Bay.

The Brooklyn native grew up in Borough Park and graduated from New Utrecht High School. He earned his bachelor's degree from Brooklyn College.

Mr. Santelmo had just taken a position as director of the insurance division at Alexander Capital, after a 35-year career as a senior account executive with MetLife on Staten Island.

He was an excellent athlete as a young man and loved all sports.

He rooted for the Dallas Cowboys, and also was a Beyonce fan.

Mr. Santelmo loved spending time with his three sons. He enjoyed going to basketball games and watching sports on television with them, and just spending time with them. And he was happily anticipating the birth of his first grandchild in the fall, family said.

Surviving are his sons, Carl M., Nicholas and Christopher, and his former wives, Deborah Virgilio and Joanne Citrolo. Fiance Tami and Step Daughter Thalia.

A gathering of family and friends will take place on Monday March 30th from 6:00-9:00 PM and Tuesday March 31, from 2:00-5:00 pm and 7:00-9:00pm
The funeral service will be Wednesday April 1, 2015 at 10 a.m. in the John Vincent Scalia Home for Funerals, Eltingville. Burial will follow in Resurrection Cemetery, Pleasant Plains.

“ Carl, I don't know what to say.....
I was shocked and saddened to learn of your passing. It was hard for me to tell my Mom, she looked to you for guidance over the years after losing my own dad. You were always so kind to both her and myself. You had such patience. You were more than an agent, you were our friend. You will be sorely missed. Give him eternal rest, O Lord, and may Your light shine upon him forever.
