“ My cousin Charlie was a great guy. He was the life of the party. He always made everyone laugh. He was always joking around. We had so much fun fishing on the party boats where he got the nickname "The Angler". He often won the pool on those boats catching the biggest fish. He really was a great Angler. He was like a big brother to me during troubled times when I was a teenager.

Rest in peace cousin Charlie and say hello to Aunt Miriam and Uncle Louie, they were awesome too.

“ Charlie and I had a wonderful life together as big sister and little brother. Dad was in the Navy and many times gone for months at a time. This brought us all closer together as family. The Navy often moved us to other naval bases every three years across the country. We lived In Key West, Florida, Oceana, Virginia , Millington, Tennessee and Escondido and Point Magu, California. Our favorite was Point Magu and Charlie loved to reminisce about those days. He would often call me to relive those times. He was always there for me when I needed help. We loved going to music concerts, dining at local restaurants, and going to the movies. Our family was devastated when we learned about his sickness, but it also brought us close as family to get him thru this over the past few years. Sadly, we lost him and I will miss him very much. I love you Charlie. Rest in peace, say hello to mom & dad for me.
Always with love,
Lynne

“ It’s 11:50 pm, Tuesday night and just found out you had passed Charlie. We go back to Tottenville high school days and you used to tell me everybody thought we were brothers back then, we’d see each other as the years passed, swapping stories and enjoying each other’s company when you’d stop by. The last time we spoke, I was picking your brain for plumbing advice of which I couldn’t get a better answer from anyone else than you. I wish I could’ve seen you one last time, going to miss you my friend, God bless.

“ We shared a love of music. I’ll never forget the many shows and concerts we went to. Places like B.B. King Blues Club & Grill in Manhattan. The Meadowlands in NJ, and the St. George Theatre here in Staten Island to see The Red Hot Chili Peppers, Mountain, Ten Years After, Three Dog Night, The Turtles, Herman’s Hermits, The Jimi Hendrix Tribute Show, etc. The night you were yelling out to meet Little Steven when you met him in the audience at BB King’s was hilarious, as if you were his biggest fanboy. We hit some great restaurants and even did some movie shows in-between your chemo session days. But of all that great stuff I’ll never forget the day I picked you up from a chemo session and asked you what do you need today...food shopping, bank, pot shop...? No... You simply asked me if we could go to the beach and sit on a bench in the sun and stare out to the sea. And damn that felt good. Somehow better than all the rest. I hope you have found another place in the sun, surrounded by all who loved you, and that dear brother-in-law, I’m sure there are many.

Love & Peace to you,
Denis & Lynne
