“ Uncle Danny’s actions spoke louder than words. He was the consummate familyman, provider and protector.

Spending summer vacations with the Mastroguilios in Sheepshead Bay and living with them for one year in Eltingville, I remember his generosity, love, and care for Aunt Jackie, Felice, Domenica, and Joey.

As kids, any time we told Uncle Danny and Aunt Jackie we were going to sit on the stoop and wait for Mister Softie he was quick to make sure ALL the kids on the block had parfaits.

When we walked to Tony’s Pizzeria or Carvel’s he always made sure we all had enough for seconds (or thirds). Decades later, when we went out clubbing (with our big hair) or spontaneously decided on a spur-of-the-moment trip to Martha’s Vineyard, he was always there with a presence of protection, and a wallet full of his hard work so that WE could explore the world. He was a dotting, selfless, and present father in an era of fathers who were unavailable—this showed in his ever present dedication, loyalty, strength, and beauty of his character. He was one of a kind; the good kind.

His cousin, Tonia Colalillo, adored him. She and her big, strong cousin danced on Horn & Hardart’s Children’s Hour. Tonia, 3,000 miles away from her beloved cousin, shared stories of their NBC days as our bedtime stories.

Uncle Danny, thank you for Mister Softie, Martha’s Vineyard, and all the life and love in between.

Sending all the love I received from Uncle Danny (I kept it) back to Aunt Jackie, Felice, Domenica, Joey, and family as you celebrate the life of a great man.

*Love you all,
Debbie*
