Dominick A. Callo, 81 of Great Kills, passed away on Friday, May 26, 2017, at Staten Island University Hospital North in Staten Island, New York.

Born Tuesday, November 26, 1935 in Vernazza, Italy, he was the son of the late Marco and Teresita Callo. Dominick immigrated to the United States after his marriage to his beloved wife, Benita in 1961. They moved to Manhattan, and in 1970 to Bay Terrace and settled in Great Kills in 1985.

He was known by his family to always tell a good story and never missed the opportunity to tell a good joke.

He was a devoted husband, father and grandfather, and cherished time spent with his family, especially his grandchildren.

Elizabeth Conroy, Mark Callo and Stephanie Freeo; fond father-in-law of John Conroy and Russell Freeo; dear brother of Rita Figoli and Columba Basso; devoted grandfather of Chris (Danielle), Jonathan (Delaura), Anthony, Jessica and Vanessa and cherished great grandfather of John, Layla and Carter..

A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated at 12:15 p.m. on Wednesday at St. Clare Church located at 110 Nelson Avenue Staten Island, New York 10308. Cremation will be private.

“ Benita, I was deeply saddened to learn of Dominick’s passing. I know we lost contact many years ago but I still cherish the fond memories as your neighbor in Elmhurst. I will always remember Dominick as a fun loving person that possessed a world of talent. He had hands of gold. I know this is a great loss for you and your family and pray that god will comfort you. Stay well, and if you’re up to it I’d love to speak to you.

His expressive face, his laughter, that wonderful accent, he was a wonderful host, he did beautiful carpentry, and exquisite renovations. He loved people and he loved his family. He was one of a kind and I know he will be dearly missed by many.*
