

Frank Assalone

June 2, 1966 - November 12, 2021

Frank Assalone.

Beloved father, grandfather, brother, and son, Frank Assalone passed away on November 12, 2021. He was born in Brooklyn and raised in Great kills, Staten Island.

He is survived by his daughter Brianna, his granddaughter Ariella, mother Julianne and his sister Tina.

Frank was a man of many trades and had a natural ability to fix anything. In his free time, he liked to work on his car and spend time with his granddaughter. While he was rough around the edges, Frank had a big heart a big portion of his heart belonged to his daughter and granddaughter.

Frank was a man that everybody knew and if they didn't, they knew someone who did. He was cherished by many.

“ When Frank, Tina (sister) & his Mom Julie moved to Great Kills back in the 70's. I made friends with him right away. We did many things together. IE.. build & ride our bikes all over the Island. We once rented mopeds & cruised all over the Island. We went to the S.I. Zoo & stopped by where he lived over there. We would sit in his room for hours & play Backgammon for hours on end. Talking about what we would be when we got older. Got him into installing fences on the Island for "Richmond Hill Fencing". I'll miss & cherish all the times we had. You were like a brother to me & I'll never forget you. Rest easy now, till we meet again..... Peace & Love my Brother

“ Frank you were the hardest working man I ever met with a incredible memory... You never got the credit you deserved... You were very misunderstood by many..... You were kind and had a incredible heart even though you tried to Hide it... You eyes would light up when you spoke about your daughter and Granddaughter.... I will greatly miss you..... see you on the other side one day
