

Frank Cipriani

March 2, 1936 - May 4, 2016

Frank Cipriani, 80, of Annadale passed away at Staten Island University Hospital on Thursday evening May 4th surrounded by his loving family. Frank was devoted to his wife of 54 years Delia ( nee D'Amico). He moved to Staten Island when he was from Greenwich Village.

After attending trade school he began his working career as an auto mechanic, which led him to work for General Motors for several years. He then switched careers and was a presser in the garment industry. When he finally retired he took a job as a custodial engineer at St. John Villa.

A man of varied talents, hobbies and interests, Frank, first and foremost was a family man. He was devoted to his wife Delia, and his three daughters; MariaLisa, ClaireAnn Bove and Francesca Vicioso. He doted and enjoyed spending time with his grandsons Salvatore and Dante Vicioso.

Frank made his own wine, made and dried his own meats and sausage. He grew his own tomatoes for use in his homemade sauce. He cherished spending the Holidays surrounded by his family including his sister RoseMarie Rossitto, his son in laws Richard Bove and Richard Vicioso and his nieces and nephews.

In his spare time Frank enjoyed hunting, fishing and going to Gateway State Park.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be offered on Saturday beginning at 10:00AM at Holy Child Church. Entombment will follow in Moravian Cemetery.

A gathering of family and friends will take place on Friday from 2-5 PM and 7-9PM

“ He used to share with me about his hunting stories, we when in a car trip to the Cabela's hunting store and he gave me good life advice, and how to be a Man for my family. I still have with me the book about bow hunting and the wine barrel, he was very patient with my English, some people will say that he was grumpy, but for me he was sweet and comunicative, like a father that I didn't have, I am sad, very sad for this lost, God bless you Frank, I will miss you.

“ I can't explain the amazing bond we had ! One of the most amazing men I have ever had the honor to know. He was an older. rman guiding a younger man after the loss of the younger mans father at a young age, He helped me to be the man I am today in so many ways . He is my oldest daughters God father and she could not have a better one! The time goes so fast it seems like I just saw you but will always love you Jon mahoney !
