Obituary for Freddie Capobianco

Freddie Capobianco, a cherished husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, brother, uncle and friend, passed away peacefully at NYU Lutheran Hospital in Brooklyn, NY, on December 26, 2025, at the age of 86. Born on September 24, 1939, in New York, New York, Freddie lived a life filled with love, devotion, and an unwavering commitment to his family and community.

Freddie was the beloved son of the late John Capobianco and the late Jennie (Pagano) Capobianco. He is survived by his devoted wife, Anna (nee Verde), with whom he shared a beautiful life in Brooklyn. Together, they raised two wonderful sons, and built a loving home filled with laughter and joy. Freddie took immense pride in his family, and his legacy continues through his children John (and his wife Rosanne) and Tom (and his partner Gregory), grandchildren, Jessica (her husband Anthony) and Jamie (and Matt), as well as his great-grandchildren, Anthony, Angelo, and Dominic Fred. He was the devoted brother of Ann Marie, cherished brother-in-law to Andy and a beloved uncle.

A proud printing pressman, Freddie dedicated many years of his life to his craft as a proud member of Union Local 1. His strong work ethic and commitment to excellence were evident in all that he accomplished throughout his career. Beyond his professional life, Freddie was well-known for his deep-rooted love for the New York Yankees, with whom he shared many unforgettable moments watching games, celebrating victories, and feeling the excitement of each season. He was also an avid enthusiast of trains and had a profound appreciation for New York City history, especially the rich tapestry of Brooklyn, the place he called home.

Freddie was a devoted family man who found joy in simple pleasures. He loved gathering with family, indulging in bike rides, building and fixing things, and spending sun-soaked days at the Seagate and Coney Island Beach Clubs. His zest for life was infectious, and he made every family outing an adventure filled with laughter and love.

A devout and religious Catholic, Freddie's faith was a guiding force in his life. He was a proud 4th degree knight with the Knights of Columbus, where he actively participated in community service and exemplified the virtues of charity, unity, and fraternity.

“ I couldn't speak at your Funeral because I would have been too emotional but, you were truly the best brother that anyone could ever ask for. You were my brother in law but in 45 years that I know you we never ever had a disagreement and I know how much you loved my Sons and how you treated them. You were always there when we needed you and when I got sick back in the 1990 's you and Anne helped out so much. I also never ever seen a Brother and Sister relationship like you had with Ann Marie. I am going to miss you so much, and its so hard to accept that you are gone. I love you Freddy and I will always take care of your baby Sister. I know you are at peace now.

“ Uncle Freddie i'm so saddened by the news you were such a gentleman a kind and loving person who lived for your family and it showed.

The holidays at your home were always filled with laughter and joy, especially at Christmastime. Some of my favorite memories in life were Christmas eve in 13th ave house and you taking the time to bring me into the train room, letting me watch the trains and share in that special magic. Those moments meant more to me than I can put into words.

I will truly miss our chats on Messenger and the conversations we shared. I am so sorry we can't be there in person, but please know we are there in spirit, holding you close in our hearts. We are sending all our love and prayers during this difficult time to Aunt annie, Cuzin Johnny and Thomas and Jessica and Jamie.

Love always your great niece Jennifer ❤️
