“ Jimmy, I first met you as a young teen, and Christina's best friend. You were always such a joy to have in our home. You were full of energy, had a love for life and you were so funny in your view of things. You were a character and the type of boy that could be compared with the main subject in an old classic novel. You were inquisitive and wouldn't settle for just yes or no answers and you were anxious to explore what life had to offer. You were sincere and honest and an asset to all who knew you.
The world feels empty without you and i pray you find peace in the arms of the Lord.

“ It is with great sadness that we write this. We have known Jimmy for 17 years. He was one of our nieces’ dearest friends. She and he were always in and out of each other’s lives since they were teens. This past year, they were able to rekindle their relationship. They grew to know each other again and understand and support each other. Their friendship was so strong and so special. They shared many adventures together, many laughs and a lot of good times. They truly had a special love for each other that would forever remain no matter where their lives would take them. This was a gift they gave each other and because of this we were able to share in it.

Jimmy was extremely talented, smart and funny. He truly loved his parents, sisters, relatives and his extended family of friends and especially his furry pets.

We pray that now that he is in God’s lovely hands, he is happy and can look down on the people he loved and see how much he was loved. He will be ever present in their hearts and we will always be glad that we were blessed to have known him.

Jimmy, may you rest in peace.

“ Dear Jimmy and to my best friend, words can't even explain the pain that I am feeling right now. I miss you so much. God truly blessed me to have you in my life. I have known you for 17 wonderful years and will cherish the memories we had together. Working together at Poly Prep, being my first true love, being each other's prom dates, going to all your football games, skiing and snowboarding in Lake Placid together, going to antique shops, the beach and just traveling and going on adventures together. You made me enjoy life. You are such an amazing person, so talented, hard driven, kind, giving to others, loving, and so many other traits that I can't even begin to explain. You are so much fun and no matter where you went everyone just loved you. You are so loved and gave everyone so much love, that will never be forgotten. You just lit up the room with your presence and your out of this world smile. When I needed you, you were always there and always knew what to do and say. I looked up to you because you were the biggest role model. I'm so honored to have you in my life and no matter where you are I know you're here with me. "Gone from my sight but never from my heart." Rest in peace my angel and until we meet again. I love you so much. 🕊️□□□

“ I was given the opportunity to host Jimmy for his recruiting visit to Susquehanna University and we became friends, teammates, and then roommates. We were in the same Italian classes and always did our dialogue projects together. One night I remember us working late and there was a thunderstorm outside and we decided to take a break and become storm chasers, in this moment I knew I had made a true friend. On Sundays we would take his jeep out to the river and just explore for hours getting engulfed in conversation before coming back to West Village and bingeing prison break with Tom and Cody. He became an honorary roommate of mine in Manhattan after graduation and was the always expressing his creativity and goals for the future. I will miss my friend, but am happy he gets to be reunited with Hendrix again.
