Joan had the gift of gab and was known to strike up conversations with family, friends, and strangers she met along the way. Her hobbies included stamp and coin collecting, reading, watching movies, and her favorite baseball team, the New York Mets.

Joan worked in accounting until having her first child in 1966, deciding to be a stay-at-home mom until 1986. After briefly working at Macy's, Joan took a tax course with H&R Block, which started her on a long career in tax preparation. She also went on to teach tax courses for the company. Working for 30 years, Joan did not retire until she was 84 years young. She was well-liked and respected by both her co-workers and clients.

She is survived by her son, Steven; daughter, Janet Magnuson, daughter-in-law, Mary Margaret; grandsons, Christopher, and Daniel Magnuson; granddaughter Mary Colleen, sister, and brother-in-law Bernie & Dorothy McSherry; brother and sister-in-law, Robert & Linda Fitzpatrick. “ I was always fascinated by her ability to work so late into life. She was very sharp. When I first met her in the early 90's, she knew as much about baseball, the NY Mets and Staten Island as anyone I have ever known. She was a terrific wife and mother who loved her family deeply. I am proud to have known her. She will be missed.

“ I love how Aunt Joan always had a story for everything. Her gift of gab was truly remarkable. We also shared two special things in common - our profession of accounting, and our "Fitzpatrick good looks" (she always made it a point to tell me that I look just like her!). She was a firecracker who will be truly missed by us all. Love and hugs to Steven and Janet and your families, Aunt Dot and Uncle Bob XOXOXO.
