“ What can I say about John? He and I were hired around the same time, in late 1984/early 1985. I started in January, 1985 and I believe that John started that fall.

He was a "rock" - reliable, logical, strong. He was the person I went to for advice. He was a master teacher; I'm sure that every student who ever had him for a class remembered him, regardless of how long ago the class was.

He liked really bad horror movies-I remember being surprised to learn that he knew Plan 9 From Outer Space, a "grade B" horror film that in my house we joke about. He knew the movie, the plot, and all other types of trivia.

He was a civil war buff. He knew the lyrics to obscure '50's rock and roll songs.

And he was also a superb mathematician at heart who became a computer professional.

I will miss him, his presence, his perspective and his counsel. Maria, John and Charles, you and your families are in my prayers.

“ John was a great colleague, scholar, and teacher. He was always gentle, humble, and thoughtful. I always felt blessed to have a colleague like him. Now I am deeply saddened. The loss is simply too big to take. John, my dear friend, mentor, and colleague, you will be truly missed and will not be forgotten. My deepest condolences to Maria, Charles, and John and their families.

John was not only my Brother, but when we were kids also like a father. John took me to my first Yankee game, taught me how to swim at Coney island and terrified me on the parachute jump. those memories will live with me always. RIP brother.
