“ Miss Marilyn brightened up our day, the second she walked through our front door, always greeting us with this radiating smile that could warm any room - and always with a bag in hand, packed with crafts and exciting projects for us to work on together. Our Mary Poppins. We were so lucky to have had Miss Marilyn in our lives. She was more than a babysitter. She was a great friend, and built special bonds and connections with each one of us. My siblings, my parents, and myself. Miss Marilyn was always encouraging, listening to ideas we had and helping us execute them. Building dollhouses, little ferris wheels, play structures, putting on shows and dance acts, painting anything and everything. Nothing was too difficult or impossible. We loved her riddles and puzzles. Always up for a Miss Marilyn challenge. Miss Marilyn was also just the best listener. As I got older she would sit and listen to me talk about anything that was on my mind. She gave great advice, and somehow after sharing a problem or any concern I had with Miss Marilyn, I immediately felt better. And I'd leave the conversation feeling as though I had figured out the solution - that's something else she was great at. Helping you find the tools you already had to figure out the solution to any problem you might have. Helping you feel confident in yourself. And feel as though you really could do anything you put your mind to, as long as you believed in yourself. She was an inspiration to all of us. So creative, giving, positive, dedicated and proud of her family. She shared so many stories about her family, many of whom had and have also become our good friends. Her children and grandchildren that we have had the pleasure of getting to know also share that same genuine, positive, warm spirit that Miss Marilyn had...and will always have, around us all. She genuinely cared for others, and my siblings and parents and I always felt so loved by Miss Marilyn - and we loved her dearly. She will be missed. And please know that our lives were truly blessed, having dear Miss Marilyn in our world for as long as we did. In our memories and hearts, she lives on forever. ❤️ Lauren Casciani Sharon, Mary, Rich, and Jennifer Casciani ❤️
