“ My beautiful Michael, the cutest little blonde boy, God Son, First born grandson ,
You were a silly rambunctious child always jumping around ,laughing, coming up with crazy ideas like making mom hold hands and jump into the pool together, by which you cut your arm and I had to patch you up. We had so much fun in those days hanging in your yard on Corbin , making whirlpools. Danielle remembers when the whole side of the pool collapsed and all the water flooded the yard.

You were a boy scout, a football player, a carpenter, an HVAC technician, a builder and a fixer. The work you have done stands as a testament to your high standards.

You were named after your father, but also after Michael the Arch Angel, destroyer of evil.

Now you get to meet him in person. It must be amazing to be with Jesus , your grandparents, great grandparents,your aunt Joany, and all the Angels in a place too beautiful for words where there is no more suffering or death.

Your mother and father and sisters love you fiercely. That love will live forever in their hearts where you will stay until you meet them at the end of their journey.

Watch over them, let them feel your joy so they can be comforted. Michael, as an adult you were sensitive , loving , empathetic, hard working and courageous.

You fought hard through all your struggles. You earned your wings. We feel it wasnt supposed to be this way, you didnt get to get married, have a family, grow old, but God took you now and someday we will understand why. You will never be forgotten. Your impact on the lives of so many people, friends you have helped , cousins you grew up with, aunts and uncles who love you, will remain forever. We will feel you with us in all the wonderful moments ahead, in your sisters lives, in our memories.

We honor your body today. The body that housed your spirit. The body created by God through your mothers womb.

It has been precious but it is no longer where you are. We look *forward to seeing you in it again in its glorified form on the last day.

May you rest and play in joyful participation in the spirit of God who is pure love.
May your family be comforted by this love and your love for them.
Always one in spirit and prayer. Amen.*
