“ I remember when I first met you, and how you tried so hard to sneakily steal my pens. I remember how we would butt heads in high school, and throughout our ten years of friendship, over the dumbest things. I remember calling you one morning, and asking if you wanted to come to Comic Con. Then later that day I had the joy of watching you meet one of your comic book heroes. I remember how you'd toss yourself at me, screaming "Oh no! My gravity!" even going so far as to let yourself fall on the floor. I remember how you would make fun of me for reading webcomics, but then I found you reading the same ones. I don't know what I will do without the ability to make more of these ridiculous memories, but I will always cherish the ones I have. I love you.
