

Patrick Cammarano

February 8, 1938 - June 20, 2020

Patrick Cammarano of Annadale, a native Staten Islander and a local dog groomer for two decades, died Saturday, June 20, at home. He was 82 years old and had been hospitalized for the past two weeks.

Mr. Cammarano was born and raised in West Brighton and was a Curtis High School graduate. He later lived on Morningstar Rd., Elm Park, and moved to Annadale in 1978.

Mr. Cammarano worked for the S.S. White Dental Manufacturing Co., Princes Bay, and later was a heating and air conditioning engineer with Carmel-Richmond Nursing Home, Old Town, and Beth Israel Hospital, Passaic, N.J. He retired in 2007 from Perfect Supply Co., a family-owned die manufacturing firm based in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Along with his wife, he was an Island dog groomer for more than 20 years. Mr. Cammarano had an interest in growing orchids, and was a member of the Staten Island Orchid Society.

He is survived by his wife, the former Carol Kalinski; two daughters, Patricia and Allyson of Annadale; nine grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. A daughter, Coral, died in 1994.

A wake will be held Tuesday from 1-4 p.m at the Scalia Funeral Home, Eltingville. The funeral will be Wednesday with a mass at 10 a.m. at Holy Child R.C. Church, Annadale. Cremation will follow.

“ *I will never forget the wonderful brother I had Fun loving caring
We had great times together growing up and in our older days
Great holidays together and great times when we got together with our families
I will always keep him in my heart and my thoughts and prayers
Love U ❤️❤️❤️*
