“ Hi Donnie here..

I show up for work one day at my office at Transit Authority headquarters in Brooklyn.

My co workers told me a Terminator was looking for me. No idea what they were talking about.

Come back from the bathroom and there's Pat all in black with sunglasses. He was working at engine 226 at the time up the block from my building and paid me a visit after his night tour to talk about subway fire protection. I always enjoyed talking about fire dept and subway related topics with Pat. He always had terrific insight into probably one of the most difficult type of FD operations.

Rest in peace.

“ I remember one of his favorite lines after a supper in the firehouse was "Well,.....that was a meal it for a King" - he'd whistle and call out "Here King! Come an' get it". Funny guy and a great boss. The job was never the same after he left. Sincerest condolences.

“ Dear Joanne and family,
I am so saddened by the passing of Pat and how it affects your family. I have nothing but wonderful memories of him as a young boy who grew up to follow in his father's footsteps. I spent many happy hours around the Fitzsimmons dining room table laughing, eating and sharing our lives together. His mom and dad were so very proud of him as Pat was the one who became the fireman while the others left the area for schools. That made them very happy.
I know this will be a difficult time for everyone especially his children. My thoughts and prayers are with you as you walk through this very sad time. God bless you and I love you all! Eileen George
