“ To Bob's wife and kids,

I just learned about Bob's passing through a mutual friend. I met Bob while working at BBH in the Corporate Actions Dept in New Jersey in the mid 90s. I must say he was truly a great guy to work with and always had a smile on his face even during crunch times in our department. Just truly a Great Man and always willing to go for a drink after work. May you Rest in Peace Bob.

*With deepest condolences

I just found out that he passed away. I am so sad. I was very lucky to have been his coworker for so many years. Much love to his family. You had a great guy there. May he rest in eternal peace. “ I was blessed to know Bob and call him my friend. I met him at RBC and he was one of the kindest and friendliest individuals I have ever met. I always enjoyed speaking with him and just joking about anything. He always laughed at my jokes eventhough they probably weren't all that funny. Never once had I ever seen him without a smile or in a bad mood. The world truly lost a great man and I will miss him. My condolences to the DeRosa Family.

“ Bob and I became friends over the past 3 years when I joined RBC in Toronto, Canada.

We worked together on Corporate Actions.

Over the years as we talked about work, we talked about family.

I will miss Bob dearly and our chats about family and dance stories when his daughter was growing up and he always teased me about being one of those moms on the TV.

Bob was a great story teller and I loved to hear those stories, I will truly miss hearing them.

Rest in Peace my friend.

To his family, no words can say enough, just remember the good times and hope that it brings you peace as time goes on.

“ I met Rob through my "Elmer" Chris, WA2PLQ. I guess Rob was an Elmer to me as well. They were not the usual (stuffy) hams and we had great times raising some hell on and off the air. Many nights in my basement or Chris' were times well spent. Rob particularly had no time for animosity toward anyone, Just an upbeat, honest guy. WA2VMO (Very Modest Operator) was such a well suited moniker for Rob. We missed him during his years in the CG. Although distance and life gets between friends sometimes, we never forget. Hearing about his marriage and family was a very good thing. Our prayers are with Diane and his children now as this loss is too soon to yet comprehend. Our sincerest condolences to all his friends and family.

“ To cousin Robert’s family. It has been many many years since I have seen my moms side of the family. I can remember Johnny, Carole and the twins Robert and Dominick as they lived next door to our family. Carole was my maid of honor and godmother to our son Ben. We moved to different states throughout the years I remember the fun times with uncle Bobby playing the guitar and all of our singing Rest In Peace cousin until we meet again

“ When Bob and I met at our first job as co-workers, we were located near China Town. One day we went to pick up lunch in China Town and another co-worker asked Bob to pick up something for him. When we got there, I asked Bob what we were picking up and he couldn't remember exactly what it was called. He could only remember "double Ball". I was skeptical of the name of the food but went along with it anyway. When we arrived at a bakery, Bob made me promise that when we got inside that I stay by his side while he asked for the "double ball". So with fingers crossed behind my back, I said OK. When we got to the counter, a young lady asked if she can help us. At that moment I lost control and wanted to bust out laughing, so I walked away from Bob to a corner of the store to let it out. Meanwhile I heard Bob asking the young lady for the "double ball" and that's when I lost it. The young lady had a look on her face like she was looking at 10 heads, then asked him to repeat it, and he did. Long story short, we ended up walking out of the bakery empty handed and Bob pissed at me for leaving him hanging at the counter. This story was told to co-workers many times over our years working together with Bob's reluctant consent. He had a great sense of humor that will always remain fond to me. Bob was a great friend, and respected family man who believed in old school tradition. He will be missed by many.
