“ *Roe as we called her was a fine executive at her position with the port authority of New York and New Jersey
She worked her way up in the organization to become. The number two executive in the real east division which was responsible for All their warehouses the port owned
She took this management experience
For many charitable organizations
And was well liked and respected in the Staten Island community

“ A beautiful lady indeed. Always found fun in whatever she did from her trips and cruises, caring for her family and friends, volunteering in many ways, and most recently making homemade wine. I'll never forget you. My condolences to Joe and children.... a huge loss to your family and friends. Rest In Peace, Roe. xoxo
