

Strength Known Thompson Venetal

December 30, 2023

Strength Known Thompson Venetal was conceived on February 28, 2023. This pregnancy came as a shock to his parents in April 2023 but just like with the rest of their children, Jada and Dylan were super excited about his future!

Jada and Dylan decided to carry the element of surprise throughout their pregnancy journey. Together they waited until the day Strength was delivered before they found out his gender, and only then was his name chosen.

The name Strength was chosen in the midst of a very traumatic time, you could imagine, but it represents the support his parents had in that moment and spiritually it represents the ability to dig deep and find the greater meaning of life! It reminds us to align our lives with purpose to something greater, like God.

Strength's expected due date was January 1, 2024 however on December 30, 2023 God called his angel back home.

Strength Known Thompson Venetal will never be forgotten. He is loved beyond imagination. He is the greatest warrior we've ever known!

Strength is survived by his mother Jada Thompson, father Dylan Venetal, his siblings Nova Venetal and Nolyn Venetal, as well as his grandparents and a host of aunts, uncles, cousins, and family that loves him!

He is preceded in death by his older sibling Avery Venetal.

To Celebrate the love for Strength, the family has asked that you wear yellow and white for attending the services.

A Funeral service will be at 3:00 PM on Saturday at John Vincent Scalia Home for Funerals, Inc. located at 28 Eltingville Blvd Staten Island, New York 10312. Private Cremation to follow.
