“ My cousin Vinny had the biggest heart. He was the proudest cousin, brother, son, and uncle.

I will never forget the countless sleepovers and pool club days, how he was always so excited to show me the new song he learned to play on guitar, how he burned me my first mix CD, how he would let me paint his nails as kids, how we would make endless pizelles at Christmastime, how he would always talk to me about the one obscure band I liked, how our birthday cakes always got lumped together at Easter, and how he would always make sure Aunt Cathy's French toast was perfect. Vinny was my cool older cousin that had all the stories of going to concerts, traveling, or meeting someone famous. Everyone knew him and he was so happy as our small family grew. He was the best cook, the life of the party, and the most thoughtful person. Vinny always looked after me, always thought of his family, always made sure we kept the traditions (and the parties) going, and he always made it a point to say that he was proud of me and that he loved me.

Vinny, you are going to be so terribly missed.

I love you forever cuz ❤️❤️❤️

“ There were so many great memories we had together, like all the Ozzfests, Jet games and movies we went to go see. The times we would get all decked out to attend Teen night at sports fest, and all the sleep overs where it'd be 50/50 I'd actually stay cause I'd get home sick but the times I stayed, we'd wake up the next morning extra early to play some Nintendo 64, and watched cartoons. All the times Eddie would terrorize us and throw us around like rag dolls, all the phone calls after Christmas morning discussing in detail what we got from Santa. You were the life of the party at the wedding last year. I'll always remember when you visited my mom in the hospital during her fight with sepsis, I know how hard that was for you but you still came with a bunch of gifts and even were able to make her smile. And of course there was the time that a horse ran into your parents Nissan Quest forever dubbing it as the Horse Van. There are too many great memories. I know our relationship was always a bit rocky though. There were plenty of fights, and beefs and tons of times we wanted to strangle each other. No matter what though, the next time I would see him he'd have two beers in his hand one for me and one for him, we'd clank our bottles and he'd always say "I love you cuz". My biggest regret is not making more time for you. I'll miss you. I love you Vinnie.

“ I encourage everyone to remember and share Vinnie’s special talents, hobbies, career, education, kindness and generosity. Share a special moment, a humorous memory. I first met Vinnie about 30 years ago. He was the the sweetest, most beautiful boy. My last visit with Vinnie was at a concert less than 2 months ago. It was a special time and I will treasure this memory always. “The best music is essentially there to provide you something to face the world with”.

*My Vinnie,
I hope you find your music in heaven. You loved your concerts and listening to so many different kinds of music. And playing your guitar. You were an amazing poet and artist.
You also loved to cook. I'll miss your burgers, steaks and pork chops . You taught me how to make manicotti from scratch. We'll be sure to carry on that tradition every Christmas Eve.
We'll also be sure to tell Sophia and Emma all about you and pass the music and cooking to them.they are lucky to have you as their guardian angel. You are so loved by so many people. So many were touched by your genuine kindness, genorosity and selflessness. You loved unconditionally. And you were loved. So much. God took you too soon from us. Please look down and help us out . The pain of losing you is too much to bear. We'll look for you in the music, and by the ocean. In the yard.... My baby. Love you more more....*
